Give your body a rest. There is no need for physical activity today. Take time to reflect on the exercise you did the past week and look ahead to what you will do in the coming week. Reward your hard work with mental instead of physical exercise.