Take this day to rest however you choose. Read a book, meditate, watch a movie, spend time outside. The most important thing about this rest day is to take time to reflect about the past week and to think about the week to come. Reward your body with this rest day and exercise your mind.